

Call for Funding Requests: Dr. Leo J. Shapiro Food Studies Award
Applications due May 20th, 2020

Description

The Dr. Leo J. Shapiro Food Studies Award offers up to 5 awards of $500 each to support any undergraduate student at the University of Arizona to complete FOOD393 Internship credits during Summer 2020. Awards are intended for students who have identified an internship opportunity for Summer 2020 and have completed the FOOD393 work plan.

Funds are to be used to cover tuition costs or other expenses related to the successful completion of FOOD393 Internship credit during Summer 2020.

If awarded funding, recipients will be expected to file a 1-2-page report upon completion of the internship describing your experience and how the funds helped to support your academic goals and/or research.

Eligibility

Students from all departments, disciplines and backgrounds are encouraged to apply. Applicants must provide a W-9 if selected for an award.

How to apply

Please submit the following as one PDF to director of Food Studies, Dr. Laurel Bellante, by email at: bellante@email.arizona.edu by May 20th, 2020.

- Basic information, including full name; mailing address; phone number; email address; UA Net ID and student ID number
- A current resume or CV
- A one-page essay briefly describing how funding will support your educational goals and/or research.
- Completed work plan for FOOD393 Internship

Notification process

Candidates who apply will be notified by May 30th and funds will be disbursed within 6 weeks of award notification.

Please direct any questions to director of Food Studies, Dr. Laurel Bellante, at bellante@email.arizona.edu.